"BRIDES IN BATH" CASE ON TRIAL IN LONDON

Charged That George Joseph Smith Murdered Three Wives Soon After Marriage

By Associated Press

London March 2 George Joseph Smith in court today heard the public prosecutor declare that he had made away with three of his wives Each was found dead in her bath Consequently the case has become known as the brides in bath case Smith has described himself as a man of independent means The women he married were found dead a few days after the ceremony Verdicts of accidental death had been returned but now murder charges have been preferred

The prosecutor said the accused man had married five times in all His first wife whom he married in 1898 is now on her way from Canada

The case the prosecutor declared is remarkable for the greed for wealth which was the dominant motive in the taking of these three lives We shall show that at the death of two of them $14,000 was obtained and that the prisoner when arrested was in a fair way to receive $30,000 more

SENSATION SPRUNG IN TRIAL TODAY

PLAINTIFF IN DAMAGE SUIT SAYS TRAP WAS SET TO CATCH ATTORNEY

SAYS SHE IS A DETECTIVE

Testifies She Told Attorney She Wasn't Injured—Attorney Enters Strong Denial

Calmly announcing to the judge and jury that she was a detective brought here for the purpose of showing up damage suit lawyers Mrs C T Prescott gave the 78th district court this morning one of the most decided shocks a local court has received Her disclosure came when she was put on the stand by plaintiff in the case of Prescott vs Wichita Falls Traction Company The suit was based upon injuries supposed to have been received by Mrs Prescott last July W F Weeks represented her in the proceedings

When court adjourned for dinner Mr Weeks and C T Prescott, husband of the witness engaged in a physical combat in the court house

Mrs Prescott's disclosure came after several minutes of questioning by Attorney Weeks bringing out the details of the accident in which she was supposed to have been injured The supposed accident occurred when the car stopped at Twelfth and Lamar and it was alleged in the plaintiff's petition that her back was seriously injured and $10,000 damages was asked

Says Told Lawyer Not Hurt

After announcing the purpose which actuated her in the proceedings Mrs Prescott gave the details of what she said happened in the course of preparation for the suit Practically all her allegations were denied by Mr Weeks She stated among other things that she had told Mr Weeks that she was not injured and that he had told her to be careful about saying she wasn't hurt Mr Weeks denied making any such statement There were other charges of a similar nature by the witness

The woman's husband C T Prescott was here last July and stopped at the Eldora Hotel where he was interviewed by a representative of The Times to whom he represented himself as a member of a moving picture company Mr Prescott stated today that he had been in the moving picture business and that the interview was a truthful one although given to the reporter as part of the game

When Surprise Came

Mrs Prescott who is a young intelligent looking woman appeared quite nervous when she took the stand but gave her answers to the preliminary questions quickly Most of the attorneys and spectators in the court room thought the case was proceeding with apparent smoothness until the witness replied in answer to a question from Attorney Weeks that she had not been injured Then it was that she announced herself The disclosure was a severe tax on the composure of most of those in the court room but Mr Weeks quickly recovered himself and began to question the witness In her eagerness to tell her side of it Mrs Prescott would reply without waiting for him to finish questions The firmness with which she stated what she had found were met with equally firm denials from the attorney and Judge Nicholson several times cautioned both attorney and witness

On one occasion the witness rose in her seat and facing the jury raised her right hand and swore to the truth of her assertions Equally impressive was the declaration of Mr Weeks that he hoped God would strike him dead if he had acted wrongly

Testimony at Variance

The attorney and witness were widely at issue on many points Mrs Prescott declared that Mr Weeks came to Mr Prescott and herself to take the case without solicitation on their part Mr Weeks says that he was sent for to take the case

At one point in her testimony Mrs Prescott said that she had prayed for Mr Weeks after she saw that he was going ahead with the case

The care with which the plans were laid was evidenced by the fact that on one occasion when Mr Weeks saw Mrs Prescott at her hotel to discuss the case Messrs Mytinger and Thomas were in a closet in the room and heard what was said It was on this occasion Mrs Prescott declared that he told the attorney that she was not hurt

Correspondence Introduced

Some correspondence between the Prescotts and the attorney after the former had gone to San Antonio was introduced but revealed nothing to implicate Mr Weeks Mr Prescott wrote several letters suggesting in rather direct terms that physicians in San Antonio could be found who would swear to anything that was wanted about the condition of Mrs Prescott Mr Weeks letters in reply were introduced showing that he told the plaintiffs he wanted the testimony of only reliable and competent physicians One of the letters from Mr Prescott written early in January contained the detectives wishes for a Happy New Year

Mrs Prescott in her testimony reviewed in considerable detail the conversations between Mr Weeks and herself She was emphatic in her declaration that she had told the attorney that she was not hurt

Physical Encounter

Shortly after court adjourned for dinner and as the parties were leaving the court house the Prescotts and Fred and Harry Weeks became involved in a physical encounter The trouble started between Harry Weeks and Mr Prescott Mrs Prescott is said to have tried to take them apart but was restrained by Fred Weeks The encounter was quickly stopped none of the participants being injured Mrs Prescott appeared in court again this afternoon

Mr. Weeks Testifies.

Mr Weeks took the stand in his own behalf this afternoon and entered a denial of practically all the statements made by Mrs Prescott explaining his own course in detail He denied very particularly that Mrs Prescott had ever intimated to him that she was not injured as severely as she claimed to be

Questioned by Judge Martin of the counsel for the traction company Mr Weeks said that the allegations in his amended petition for damages had been based upon statements made to him by Mrs Prescott He had sworn to the amended petition he pointed out because the defense had asked it but had sworn to the best of my belief

Believed Claim Just One

Judge Martin reviewed an alleged conversation between the Prescotts and Mr Weeks in which the former had asked if there was any danger of getting into trouble should it develop after the suit was settled that Mrs Prescott was not so badly injured Mr Weeks said that they had asked him questions which caused him to have some suspicions of them but that he had a honest belief that they had a just claim against the traction company

That letters written by Mr Prescott from San Antonio in which some apparently improper suggestions were made as to securing testimony from physicians were [illegible] Judge Martin asked Mr Weeks why he did not drop the case when he saw his client was willing to adopt such methods Mr Weeks replied that while he realized his client was willing to adopt crooked methods he still believed that he was going into the case in good faith

J A Kemp went on the stand and was questioned regarding the contract between the traction company and the detective agency He said he knew nothing of it when it was made being out of town at the time He thought it had been arranged by either Mr Kell or Mr Mytinger but was not familiar with the terms of the contract

T R T Ortel general manager of the traction company declared his ignorance of the contract saying he had nothing to do with making it

Conductor M Kinley who was on the car which was involved in the accident testified regarding what happened He said his first knowledge that anything had happened was when he saw Mrs Prescott near the car in her hus and's arms

Favorable to Weeks

John W Thomas, who with J C Mytinger was in a closet in Mrs Prescott's room when Mr Weeks came to consult her about the case occupied the stand for some time and was still testifying at 4 o'clock this afternoon He said that he went there at the request of Mr Mytinger without being informed of who was involved The testimony of the witness in general was favorable to Mr Weeks he being unable to corroborate Mrs Prescott definitely upon many of the points brought out in her evidence He did not recall hearing her say with reference to another woman She isn't any more hurt than I am He also was unable to state just what was said with reference to the Prescotts leaving the city Mrs Prescott had testified that Mr Weeks said for her to use a cane and leave on her husband's arm while going to the station Mr Weeks denied making any such statement and Mr Thomas was unable to testify that any like remark was made

PRESIDENT WILSON CHARACTERIZES TOKIO DISPATCH AS UNFOUNDED

NO REPLY YET RECEIVED

Fear of Friction Felt in China Over Arrival Additional Japanese Troops

By Associated Press

Washington March 23—President Wilson declared today that the only definite thing that could be said at this time on the Japanese Chinese negotiations was that the United States had addressed an inquiry to Japan regarding her demands on China The president declined to discuss the scope of the inquiry

When asked however if the Tokio dispatches were correct in reporting that the Americans had inquired only about minor points the president made it clear that he did not consider the points of a minor character Another dispatch from Tokio saying that the United States had approved Japan's explanation was brought to the president's attention He referred to it as unfounded pointing out that the United States had not approved or disapproved of anything and had in fact not received Japan's reply

LOSS OF PRZEMYSL IS NOT MINIMIZED

GERMAN PRESS ADMIT THAT FORTRESS OF STRATEGIC IMPORTANCE

SORTIE BY ITS DEFENDERS

Garrison Given Provisions For Five Days and Told Not To Return

By Associated Press

Petrograd March 23—The events that preceded the final desperate sortie of the belligerent garrison in the Austrian fortress of Przemysl designed to break through the Russian lines are described in an official dispatch, which says

During the last days before the final sortie the garrison received increased rations Each soldier was given biscuits to last five days, warm new clothing and new boots. Officers were instructed to explain to the troops that if they returned to the garrison an inglorious fate awaited them and in consequence they must break through the Russian lines at all hazards An easterly direction was chosen for the sortie because it lead to the district where the Russians had large stores of arms and ammunition More than 20,000 men were ordered to take part in the sortie but several units refused to move despite the urgings of their officers Only the 23 divisions and some parts of the 83rd Landwehr and Fourth Hussars took an active part They were promptly and decisively repulsed

In this connection it is pointed out that the Russian force was not large and that the great sortie was defeated by practically the same number of territorial troops and reserves The total number of the garrison exceeded Russian expectations

TICK ERADICATION IN MANY COUNTIES

MATTER UP IN CLAY, ARCHER, BAYLOR, YOUNG AND OTHER COUNTIES

EFFECT OF ERADICATION

Federal Inspector In Letter To W. C. Young Sets Forth Some Advantages

That the movement for tick eradication is general throughout the counties in this section of the state is indicated in a letter from L. J. Allen, inspector in charge at Fort Worth, to W. C. Young of Archer county who is taking an active part in the campaign in that county. Mr. Allen's letter which it is believed will apply to conditions here follows

Fort Worth, Texas, March 11, 1915—Mr. W. C. Young, Dear Sir: In response to your letter of the 27th ultimo you are respectfully advised that an election has been ordered in Throckmorton county for March 22 and in Nolan county and Shackelford counties March 17. In Baylor a petition has been signed, so I am reliably informed, by about 850 voters out of a possible number of 1150. There are what seems to be entirely reliable reports that sentiment in Clay county seems to be nearly unanimously in favor of eradication. Practically the same conditions is stated to exist in Wichita county, however, I have not heard much from there.

You ask if the election carries whether it will interfere to any extent with the movement of cattle from one pasture to another within the county. It will not interfere in any manner whatever with the movement of cattle which are being regularly dipped for tick eradication. It naturally follows that if one in a community fails to dip regularly and permits the ticks to mature on the cattle, that he would not be permitted to move his cattle to or across ranches where the work is being systematically carried. The movement of cattle to transportation in any one dipping. You ask if steers fattened on cake and grass may be shipped out of the county to the Fort Worth or other markets for slaughter. If tick eradication is taken up this summer in Archer county, there will be no reason for its interfering with the movement of cttale to transportation lines for shipment before, say about July 15 or possibly somewhat later, even though such cattle had not been dipped providing it would not be necessary to drive these cattle through pastures, the owners of which had commenced to dip for eradication. After the cattle had thus reached the transportation lines, they could be shipped to Fort Worth or any other market as southern cattle. In this connection I will state I would not advise the dipping to be necessarily commenced before July 15 for systematic tick eradication. Some will find it to their interests to commence the dipping at an earlier date to prevent a loss from Texas fever which has been a factor of considerable importance in counties situated as is Archer county. You say "can stocker cattle be shipped above the line (present) under the same conditions that we now ship above the line." They can and with this additional privilege. That any cattle which are apparently free from ticks during the process of tick eradication may be dipped once under Bureau or State supervision and shipped interstate or intrastate, as the case may be, as non-infectious cattle, whereas at the present time the Bureau does not engage to furnish supervision of dipping for interstate movement from from your county for the simple reason there is no occasion for maintaining inspectors there. Further, after tick eradication has made reasonable progress, cattle of all premises or pastures which have been determined to be free from ticks by repeated inspections or which have been cleaned up under supervision may be moved interstate or intrastate without any dipping whatever, providing they may reach the quarantine line or transportation line without exposure to infection enroute. You ask "can stocker cattle be shipped to Fort Worth or other points below the line as heretofore. In this connection I will state it would not be wise to ship stocker cattle from a county after it had been free from ticks to the Fort Worth or any other market below the quarantine line for the reason that buyers below the line would not want cattle from a tick free territory. Neither would you wish to ship stockers or feeders below the line for the very sufficient reason that you would have a much better market above the line. During the period in which the county was being cleaned up of course it would be all right to ship stockers and feeders to Fort Worth or any other market below the line. If such cattle are being dipped regularly after the work had commenced, there would be no embargo on their movement to the transportation line and so shipped. Very respectfully,

L. J. ALLEN
Inspector in Charge

Petitions for candidates for aldermen at the city election to be held April 6 must be filed with the city secretary by next Saturday that being the last day upon which the charter permits the filing of the petitions.

Three petitions, being those for the aldermanic candidates nominated at the labor mass meeting have already been filed presenting the names of C. C. Willard, A. C. Wilson and S. T. Taylor. Each of the petitions had the same signatures there being the names of 52 qualified voters attached several signers were found to be not qualified but only 50 were required.

The checking of the petitions entails considerable work this year as the names must be compared with the county poll lists there being no city poll tax. There are five county precincts in which city voters reside and it is necessary for City Secretary McCarty to go over all of these in checking the lists. For this reason he asks that the petitions reach him as soon as possible.

In the petitions filed the names submitted are, C. C. Willard, contractor 1920 Eighth street, S. T. Taylor carpenter, 2008 Eighth street, A. C. Wilson, telegraph operator 1413 Fourteenth street. As there are three places to be filled the same voters could sign each of the three petitions but their signatures would not be valid on a fourth petition. The signatures are

Roy Neblett, Otis Williams, Mike Benson, R. K. Lane, G. L. Green, Frank O. Brown, W. H. Veal, O. C. Moody, C. R. Jones, George Bock, J. C. Mount, W. B. Smith, C. W. Johnson, F. H. Denison, W. C. Russell, H. P. Hays, George Bartle, T. W. Scott, Bernard Martin, James F. Stephens, W. Wheeler, E. H. Smith, J. H. Reed, H. C. Pinkston, I. T. White, W. Gallon, W. J. Heffner, J. W. Mathis, J. B. CONCERT PROGRAM BY HUMOROUS RESERVIST

German Soldier Drafts Burlesque Program to the Delight of Fellow Soldiers

By Associated Press

Berlin, March 23.—Friends of a humorous-minded reservist who is serving at the west front have received from him the following "concert program" which has made the rounds of the trenches to the delight of the soldiers.

Grand Charity Program

In the great hall between Calais and Verdun for the benefit of our loved ones at home.

Among those taking part are: The imperial alto, Miss "Fat Bertha" of Essen. She possesses a voice of great volume (42 centimeters) and was personally engaged by Kaiser Wilhelm. The imperial baritone Herr Mortar of Vienna. (Best references from Namur, Liege and Maubeuge.)

The music is conducted by the Machine Gun Division, assisted by tenors (rifles) and basses (21 centimeter canon).

Program

1—Overture. As we marched into France in 1914. Germany.

2—Phantasy from the opera. The Fear of the Spies. England.

3—Male chorus, "The Russian Catcher." Von Hindenburg.

Intermission

Refreshments—French wines, vintage of 1870.

4—Folk song. What is that falling from the sky? (Bomb accompaniment by Zeppelin.)

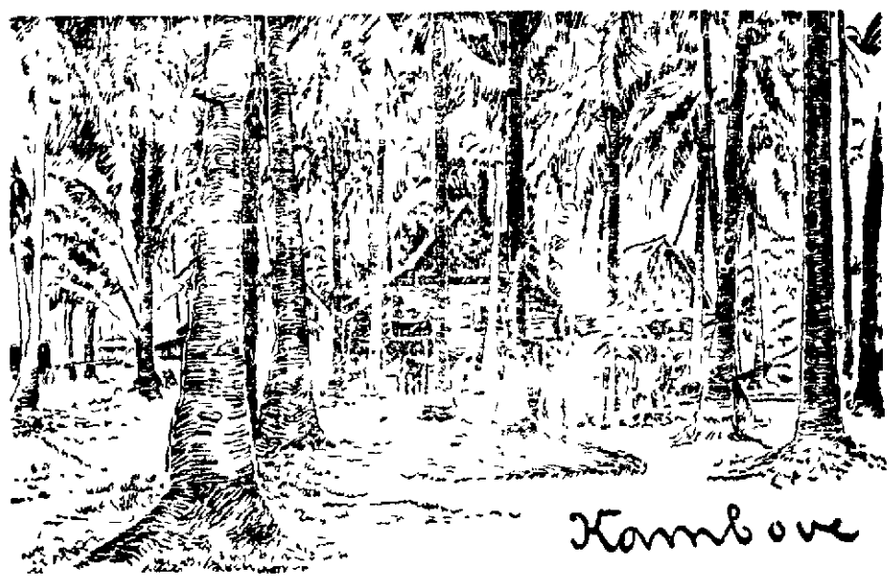
5—"Come into my bower, sweetheart." (Dedicated to the Russians by von Hindenburg.)

6—Folk song, "It shall not last much longer." (What all hope.)

After the concert there will be a wonderful storming attack followed by a bayonet fight. Bengal fire illumination after darkness sets in. The price of seats will be determined after you arrive. For the French special reserved seats of compulsion have been arranged. Women and children are not admitted.

FUNERAL OF MRS. J. M. ROSS HELD THIS AFTERNOON

Funeral services for Mrs. J. M. Ross who died Monday afternoon at 3:30 were held this afternoon at the M. E. Church south, the Royal Neighbors conducting the burial rites. Death followed a short illness, Mrs. Ross being at the home of her sister, Mrs. Will Thompson. Deceased was 38 years of age and leaves husband, one small daughter and two sisters, Mrs. John Lindsay and Mrs. Will Thompson and a host of friends and acquaintances to mourn her loss. She was a faithful member of the Royal Neighbors, members of which attended the body to its last resting place in Riverside Cemetery.



The Longest Railroad In the World

From Cape Town and from Cairo, for years the engineers have been pushing through desert, jungle and forest, over rivers and across lakes, the longest railroad in the world. The dream of the late Cecil Rhodes, this road is by this time almost completed. About a year and a half ago the line was pushed from Cape Town northward 2250 miles in the Belgian Congo.

At that time the terminus was Kambove, the little African village shown in the illustration.

The first train arriving at Kambove was illuminated with Dead As the Sierras.

His footprints have failed us
Where berries are red
And madronas are rankest—
The hunter is dead!

The grizzly may pass
By his half open door,
May pass and repass
On his path, as of yore.

The panther may crouch
In the leaves on his limb,
May scream and may scream—
It is nothing to him

Prone, beared and beasted
Like columns of stone,
And tall as a pine—
As a pine overthrown.

His campfires gone,
What else can be done
Than let him sleep on
Till the light of the sun?

Aye, tombless. What of it?
Marble is dust.
Cold and repellant,
And iron is rust.

U. C. T. INDOOR PICNIC QUITE A SUCCESS

The United Commercial Travelers and the Auxiliary to the U. C. T. held a most successful and enjoyable indoor picnic Saturday evening at the U. C. T. club rooms. The entertainment was devised as a means of arousing interest in the U. C. T. convention to be held here in May and this coming event was the subject of much discussion. The social feature of the evening was highly enjoyed, a number chosing to take advantage of the perfect floor and the orchestra music. A sumptous spread concluded the program of amusement. There were about one hundred and fifty present, including a number of out of town U. C. T. members and the families of the local members. From every standpoint the affair was a huge success, far surpassing all previous entertainments. Both the U. C. T. and the Auxillary are increasing their membership rapidly and interest in the work in proportion and they are planning an elaborate entertainment on the occasion of the May convention

CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN AID ALL DAY MEETING

An all day session of the Ladies Aid and Missionary Society of the Central Presbyterian Church was held Monday with Mrs. J. W. Bone. The morning was devoted to the completion of the garments for the mission school and a business session was held in the afternoon. Devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. J. F. Reed and Mrs. McFadden. A social meeting for next Monday to be held at the home of Mrs. McFadden was planned

FACTS CONCERNING THE ALAMO HEROES MONUMENT

The Alamo Heroes monument when completed will be the tallest building in the world and will cost $2,000,000 which represents the payment of fifty cents by each inhabitant of Texas. At the base of the monument will be located the art gallery and museum, a magnificent lobby and large room for the meeting of educational and society meetings. On the exterior of the base will be heroic statutes of Travis, Bowie, Bonham and Crockett with other heroes of the fighting days of Texas. There will be also giant flags the six flags which have floated over Texas in her wonderful history, on each side of the base of the monument. A room will be reserved for each county in the State where the literature pertaining to this county and its resources and possibilities, and the county honor roll of the men and women who have by their donations made this monument possible will be placed. At the top of the monument will be located giant telescopes and a wireless station and the most powerful searchlight ever constructed with over one million candlepower. Mrs. F. N. Boswell, who is in charge of this work is now in the city and will soon make some definite announcement as to the monument fund campaign in this county.

MISSIONARY PROGRAM OF B. W. A. HELD MONDAY

The Baptist Woman's Alliance met Monday afternoon in regular session, carrying out the missionary program on the subject of "The New Patriotism." James, C. T. Price, G. W. Young, A. Muney, C. H. Smith

The degree team is in good working order and is doing the best work of the year, and all Woodmen are invited to be present and watch the initiatory work Notices have been sent to Burkburnett, Allendale and other towns and a large crowd is expected

There will be several surprise stunts pulled off after the order closes. J. R. Ogle will tender his resignation as "grand arch warden" and several candidates have already filed their application for the above office and the contest for the office will be a lively one.

FIRE DEPARTMENT WILL GIVE DEMONSTRATION SOON

Will Show How Quickly Coupling to Fire Hydrants Can Be Made

Plans for a fire department demonstration at which the equipment for making quick couplings would be shown are being made by Fire Chief McClure, who will probably arrange it for one evening this week, possibly Thursday. He is anxious for the public to become familiar with this part of the department's work.

The chief also hopes to arrange for a more complete demonstration of the department's work by having the public witness the answering of a call; the members of the department would show the speed with which they can leave their beds, dress and make their getaway The chief believes such demonstrations would give the public a better idea of the efficiency of the department

Mayor Cured; Skin Cleared By D. D. D.

Mayor Chapman of Ellis, Kansas, courteously says he will answer any letters written him relative to his truly marvelous cure of skin trouble with the D. D. D. Prescription.

Mayor Chapman writes: "I think how I suffered last winter, how I could do no work I was covered with terrible blotches, sometimes weeping water, sometimes worse, blotches sometimes 10 inches in diameter. FEARFUL ITCHING. It was only accidentally that I learned of the famous specific D. D. D. I write this in all gratitude for what D. D. D. has done for me."

Results from the use of D. D. D. are immediate. The first, soft, cool touch and the itch is gone

Pimples, rashes, dandruff, disappear over night. Hard crusts and scales, raw scorching sores, salt rheum tetter, no form of skin disease resists

All druggists have this famous specific on hand

If you will come to us we will sell you the first bottle on the guarantee that it will reach your case or your money refunded. You alone to judge. Ask also about D. D. D. Skin Soap, best for tender skin.

TEXAS HIGHWAYS BEING IMPROVED

ROUTE MAY BE COMPLETED TO LAREDO WITHIN NEXT YEAR

D. E. COLP WRITES LETTER

Congratulates D. P. Talley and Others on Work Being Done Here

A man will soon be able to get in his automobile at Laredo and go all the way to Dallas over good highways, according to D. E. Colp of San Antonio, secretary of the Texas Good Roads Association and president of the Texas division of the Meridian Highway Association Mr Colp mentions this fact in a letter to D. P. Talley of this city on the subject of marking the Meridian and Colorado to Gulf Highways, a work in which Mr Talley has taken a leading part. The letter follows:

Mr D. P. Talley, Wichita Falls, Texas Dear Sir: I am just in receipt of carbon copy of your letter, dated March 16th to A. W. Reed, secretary, Memphis, and I wish to say that I heartily agree with your ideas of marking the Colorado to Gulf Highway and also agree with you on the Meridian Road part of it.

It seems to me that the Colorado to Gulf should be given a little more prominence between Wichita Falls and Fort Worth, while of course, I am only interested in this project in so far as the general welfare of the people of Texas is concerned, but at all times I like to see every organization in every community treated fairly and squarely on all propositions and unless the signs that already exist on this division are sufficient, I would say for the good of the Colorado to Gulf Association that they should have the signs wherever it is convenient and if they have not room for the regulation width, half that size would answer.

I am very glad indeed that you have taken such an active part in this work and I have been trying to get our people on the Meridian part south of Fort Worth interested in a similar campaign as soon as the weather and roads will permit.

I suppose you knew that there was only thirty-five miles of road between Fort Worth and Laredo on the Meridian Road to be financed. The balance has already been provided for and the work going on in each county and with fairly good weather, people will be able to start at Laredo, rain or shine, and go to the Dallas Fair on a pike. There remains only seven miles to be financed between San Antonio and Dallas. That is in Hill county and the Commercial Club there assured us that that would be taken care of this summer if it had to be done by private subscriptions

I expect to try to organize a road marking campaign in about sixty days of the Meridian Road, including the Galveston and Corpus Christi divisions. The people between Waco and Galveston are getting busy, Brazos county having voted $450,000; Falls county votes on $500,000 the 24th of this month; Robinson county has about completed her part and we hope to get Waller county financed within a short time

At any time that I can be of any assistance on any good roads project in Texas, I want you to feel free to call on me. Very truly yours.

D. E. COLP, Secretary

The system of painting bands on poles for guiding tourist travel has been carried out in the north and northwest for four years and has proven to be the most effective means of accurately guiding the tourist Each highway in the same section of country uses different colors for this purpose so as to avoid confusion. Wichita Falls has the distinction of being the first in Texas to so mark its highways, thus leading in this as it does in most worthy public affairs, (except hard surfaced roads) and promise is now given that the Meridian Road and Colorado to Gulf Highway will both be so marked all the way to Canada to Gulf and Denver to Gulf within the next two months. After that printed road instructions will not be necessary, further than a card explaining how to follow the stripes.

STOMACH PUMP SAVED WOMAN WHO SWALLOWED ACID

whether this was due to the effective life of a woman on Lee street who Sunday afternoon swallowed a quantity of carbolic acid and today she was pronounced out of danger by Dr. Meredith, who was summoned She of one of his letters led to the trouounce bottle of the poison, severely burning her lips and face. The stomach pump was used and there is now every reason to believe she will recover

The drinking of the poison followed a quarrel between the woman and her husband and when the latter failed to return home after being away for some hours the wife sought to end her life.

Greenville is reported to have more than twenty miles of asphalt streets. Wichita Falls has about ten miles short of that amount of paving but then we are coming along thank you.

The disclosures several years ago in Union county, Ohio and those being made at the trial of Mayor Roberts of Terre Haute Indiana and a number of other defendants now in progress in the federal court at Indianapolis showing wholesale corruption of the electorate makes us glad that we live in the cotton belt instead of the corn belt. It would appear from the reports of the trial that the citizen of Terre Haute who did not get at least a half dollar if not registered on the voting machine did not make much out of a share when the ballots were counted.

Though the [illegible] the question of [illegible] was defeated by a very [illegible] in the thirty-fourth legislature there is little doubt but that it will be brought up again at the special session to be called in April. As this paper view the matter the legislature should as well have the matter submitted to the people of the State and so rid of it. Eleven sessions have been granted after a law has been enacted by the vote in the legislature which only lasted three days from the necessity of the majority of the people of this State are willing to have the matter submitted. Perhaps not half the women will vote when given an opportunity but there have been elections in the state at which not more than one half the men who were qualified voters took the trouble to vote. As for the question of statewide prohibition it will make but little difference. It has been this newspaper's observation that there are just about as many women who if given the opportunity would vote the anti ticket as there are women who are enthusiastic pros. That is to say a broad assertion to make but the great majority of women [illegible] especially in the South and West vote with their husbands, fathers and brothers and perhaps it is right and proper for them to do that.

[illegible] the same time 48. Sherman was 44 [illegible] was 32 years old. When Stonewall Jackson was killed [illegible] he was but 39 and when McClellan was placed in command of the Union forces in 1861 he was [illegible] years old.

This makes it interesting because here is such striking contrast with the advanced years of the men who are in command of the armies now fighting in Europe. On the German side General von Emmich the taker of Liege is 66 and General von Kluck is 68. General von Hauer who recently gave up the command of the Saxon army is 68. General von Heeringen is 64. General von Linsingen and General von Bulow are 66. General von Moltke, chief of the German general staff is 67 and General von Hindenberg who is in command of the east Prussian forces is 67. Many of these officers took part in the Franco Prussian war in 1870. On the allies side Earl Kitchener is 64 and Premier Asquith and Sir John French are [illegible]. BILL DAIDY'S CHAPTER

By ROBERT F. HOFFMAN

[illegible] glad [illegible] life [illegible] and within wide limits [illegible] to the unrestricted express[illegible] of that [illegible]

[illegible] is one of those who believe [illegible] in the large exercise of [illegible] though of late [illegible] he has added a little candor.

In the old days [illegible] came in off his engine [illegible] with the usual accumulation of [illegible] over the shortcomings of the roundhouse which are apt to loom large in the long watches of the night [illegible]

He [illegible] grew the habit of closing his regular harangue to the roundhouse foreman with a sort of peroration which summed up the real or imaginary derelictions of everybody connected with the road from call boy to president.

In an effort to break the flow of Bill's rough eloquence the roundhouse foreman unwittingly set Bill's feet upon the path that led upward—downward Bill laughingly insists sometimes.

Bill, why in thunder dont you write a book, said the long suffering foreman when Bill had become more than usually aggressive in his none too gentle impeachments. You are sure wasting your talent on an engine.

Bill glared for a moment before he was able to let down the pressure of road management which he had mentally assumed and then as the recollection of a purchase he had recently made for his growing son flashed across his mind he gave way to a slow grin and said:

Blamed if I dont believe that's a good idea Ballard. Maybe I'll just go you a chapter when my boy gets fit with his machine.

So Daidy in his evenings at home took to rehearsing his daily grievances to the boy who laboriously hammered them out of the typewriter into grotesques of composition and the printers art.

Daidy dictated and revised, killed copy and edited although he did not know it in those terms and after many days what he had written to call The Chapter was finished, decked out with border lines that fairly exhausted the resources of the boy and the eighty odd characters of the machine.

Bill gloated over it for a week or right and then liked it so well that he decided to have it all done over again in order that he might not only give Ballard but also send carbon copies surreptitiously to the superintendent of motive power, the division superintendent and holy of holies—the general manager.

The superintendent of motive power duly received his copy, threw it in the waste basket and remarked casually: Bill.

Bill liked Bill but not Bills too free [illegible]

The division superintendent read his copy and laughing pigeonholed it for future use in letting down the pressure of the superintendent of motive power which next they should lock horns over engine failures.

The general manager took up his copy from its personal cover and read it from start to finish as follows:

Chapter One

If this don't fit your case you get a clearance card right here. The board is out for others.

When you build an engine and want the most results and don't care what kind, fix yourself with a lot of discouraged draftsmen and for chief get a good wrangler that talks into his whiskers and dont decide much.

Tell them fellows at the start that you put them into that cheese box of office to stay and they can't break out onto the road to see an engine do business nowadays.

Don't pay any of them too much. They are working on paper and you can easily fix the engine after we get it.

Hire a lot of master mechanics that know all about sawmills. There ain't none around here but you can see them running in the woods if you take a ride with me. They will be ready to swap your new engine when it comes out.

Fix up boiler steel specifications that you know are O. K. and then let the plate casing agent bluff you into buying something better but cheaper he can prove it. That will sure give a lift once in a while to some of us fellows that's a little slow about circulating in the scenery and it will make things brisk in the boiler shop. Them boys need work. They are too strong for frost nights.

[illegible] in red engine frames. If I was a track man I'd like to be able to put my hand on a tested weld and say: The [illegible] after the engine jumped the track and got pulled out of the ditch [illegible] The dispatcher won't care if she don't block the track. It's work for the blacksmiths.

Fix your spring rigging so when it breaks the equalizer will hit a point down in the track. Gives the engine a better start when she jumps. She will go farther and everything had ought to be made to go as far as it can.

The jacked staff binder bolts should set low enough to trip up a frosty plank crossing. It gives the engines a good [illegible] as gets. One nut's enough. Two stay on too well.

[illegible] sledge bolts in a safe deposit box behind the driving wheels. Somebody might get at them with a wrench on the road. Wedge bolts had ought to be spalled or heard from when the journals screech, not sooner.

If anybody thinks he wants to slack a wedge bolt let that man shoot the jam bolts off with a gun. That's what guns is for and they ought to be armed in the tool kit.

The roundhouse kicks to engine [illegible] the cab. New engines don't get hot seen enough to scare anybody truly. Put a crew of hoboes in there and tell them they ought to save. Let them the collar pocking down in the pitch bar. He will do it. He hit but and stuff ever hey over the days and makes good last.

Well now [illegible] a fellow gets them out digging ball [illegible] the cellar [illegible] can't get them in again inside of fifteen [illegible] a piece. The dispatcher wont care [illegible] him and the engineer daresnt. Its all he can do to talk his way out of a lay off.

Don't you worry about front ends. If the engine looks good to you but dont steam no more than a teakettle with the bottom out let the trainmaster put on a helper once in a while. Three or five years from now somebody else will have your job anyhow and he'll get most of your front end furniture out on the scrap pile while he cleans house and forget to put it back again. That will help some.

If you find there's rooms to rent in the front end after you get it done and the better men show up again without the incubator Bill hes up with their stuff. It's hang for us fellows but it helps hold the front trucks down when you're going some.

Bend your feed and air pipes as sharp and as often as you can. It shows that nobody was looking and they freeze up quicker.

Look out for your engine cab. Fix it so that if a fellow goes to the front door he can't get back again to the throttle without getting orders from the dispatcher showing that the main line of the cab is clear.

The boy allows we are working too many nights at this. He wants a change. We are so dont fotter about the boxes and ash pans. When the president sends word that he couldn't see the right of way on his last trip for smoke send him to me and I'll tell him how [illegible] the wrong end of the train. It was all clear ahead of the engine.

That'll make him know that we are [illegible] some parts part wood and part leather with brass trimmings—which I am

Yours truly

WILLIAM DAIDY, Engineer

When a man has enough strength of character to get his head above the common level however grotesquely he may at first appear there is usually something in him worth observing. If he has balance and staying powers he may get his feet upon the solid, and clearer has been discovered.

Somewhat in his fashion the general manager reasoned as he read Bills letter. He called his secretary and by careful questioning and reply it was soon established that neither of them knew who William Daidy was nor what of Williams chapter was fact and what fancy.

Therefore the general manager made a brief investigation put some pointed questions to the superintendent of motive power who fumed a little but electrified the master mechanic (as witness his short and simple letters of Bill) and thus Bills little seeds began to grow apace.

Changes were made. Plans were devised and revised until new engines bore signs of improvement. These things were discussed on the home road and the news of them went broadcast over many roads.

Bills ideas bore the test of service, and [illegible] like the proverbial grey hairs [illegible] till finally they came before the Fire Intelligence, the Great Arbitrator or Court of Last Resort of the railroad mechanical world and were called good. No longer bearing the name of William Daidy Engineer. It is true but labeled with the names of many men for that is the way of the world and the destiny of all things that are good enough to prove good.

Bill never got beyond Chapter One of Ballard's book. There was no need. But having demonstrated that he was a man of parts, it was thought advantageous to transpose him to the ranks of those he had smitten. Thus Bill became a road foreman of engine—and more.

The Wichita Buick agency yesterday received another car of Buicks and during the day sold a Model C 25 to W. B. Hancock of Vernon.

(2) Baking Powders made of Alum add to the food some form of Alum or Aluminum, a heavy metal, very poisonous foreign to any natural article of food.

(3) Phosphate of Lime is made from rock or by burning bones which by chemical action are changed into a white powder. It is used in baking powder only because it is a cheaper substitute.

A cream of Tartar powder never contains Alum or Phosphate.

Every housekeeper should read the ingredients printed on the label and know what she is using.

At The Theaters

The Lydia Margaret

Kells and Hallner have one of the best acts ever seen in this theatre and as a musical offering it is far above anything heard here for some time. The clever and robness of both Miss Kell and Mr. Hallners voices were [illegible] lack of [illegible] with "If You Were My Love I'd Sing an Ode for You" and "[illegible] number of pretty songs [illegible] When You and I Were Young Maggie and Melissa. The settings and cost me [illegible] are very pleasant. Carl and Anna Glocker's wat[illegible] other big winners. [illegible] the fastest and most [illegible] this state and [illegible] and costuming is very [illegible]. These two acts strike a new [illegible] Today's [illegible] Might Have Been Series and a two part drama [illegible] Night.

The Gem

Marc M. Detroit and Dan in McRae are the principals in another of the interesting Young Lord Stranleigh stories [illegible] No Invitation and An Attack. The story follows.

Young Lord Stranleigh [illegible] yacht trying to [illegible] he had purchased in South Africa ahead of a [illegible] that had been stolen there by thieving directors of the company who had [illegible] of robbing Stranleigh [illegible] of ore.

Stranleigh's [illegible] speed rapidly overhauled and [illegible] the Rajah the [illegible] in question. Arriving at the mouth of a river he sailed up stream above where the mine was located unbeknown to those aboard the Rajah which arrived later, and anchored at the main landing where they had prepared to take the stolen cargo aboard. Meanwhile Jolson the agent of the mining directors ordered [illegible] laid at the mouth of the river to prevent pursuit and destroy any vessel which might attempt to enter the stream.

Stranleigh's [illegible] of this reached him in time to escape from the [illegible] in which he was [illegible] the vessel outside where it came on with the stolen ore. For a complete this he had a large quantity of [illegible] thrown down the stream and they [illegible] loaded the mines. After this the yacht slipped in quietly and [illegible] want to interfere the Rajah on its return journey.

The Empress

The inimitable Mabel and Fatty are here again appearing in Mabel and Fatty's Wash Day. If their washday is anything like as funny as their busy day was it is some scream. A two part Bronco Tom The Gun Fighter is also on the program. The story in substance follows.

Tucson professional gun man is loved by Rhita a pretty girl in the dance hall trade. She adores their baby which Tucson looks upon as a nuisance. At his orders he drives the child plaything from the back of a stream where he is found by the Lawsons two homesteaders. They adopt the baby and become very fond of him. Later Tucson is engaged by Santino a rancher to kill Law on which he refuses to do at this claim to the Mexican. Miners Make Good Soldiers

Lord Kitchener it appears has in the course of his service become deeply impressed with the value of the Northumbrian miner as a military asset. His good opinion is founded on his observation of the work done in the field by the Northumbrian fusileers. He told Lord Grey that he wanted more men of the same class for the new forces which he is organizing. Thereupon Lord Grey visiting the mining centers in the north explained Lord Kitchener's desire to the miners themselves with the result that recruiting local committees were formed by the older men throughout the mining regions and that large numbers of young miners, many of them athletes, have been enrolled in the ranks. It is probable that they will be organized into a special regiment in which old acquaintances will have the privilege of marching and fighting together.

Ancient Weapons of War.

The ancient catapult of which the Austrians tried a modern version at Belgrade was strictly speaking an engine that threw darts, a sort of machine gun. The engine that threw stones weighing from two pounds up to three hundredweight was the ballista. But the two terms were often confounded and loosely used. According to Josephus the balista could throw stones a quarter of a mile. All these machines were worked by twisted hair, sinews and vegetable fibres. And the most startling passage in the classics is Aristotle's allusion to speaking of acts for which a man cannot be held wholly responsible to the man who let off the catapult by accident.

Sorrows of the War.

They tell a story about Mme. Schumann-Heink's engagement in Philadelphia recently that shows how the war in Europe brings trouble to many people far from it. The fiance of her daughter had just had his law shot off and had sent word to her to break the news to her daughter and also to notify her that he released her from her engagement. The great singer put more feeling into her songs those who heard her said, than ever before, her breaking heart proving no bar to what she considered her duty.

Help Widowed Mothers.

Twenty two states now help women who have lost their husbands to support their children. The legislatures of these states have decided that the widow without means is as much in need of help as the man who has lost a hand. The state profits in the end because the children become in time self supporting if properly brought up, and an asset of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Jones are the parents of a nine pound baby boy who arrived yesterday afternoon.

At the Lydia Margaret Theatre [illegible] decided novelty juggling act [illegible] jugglers but the juggling [illegible] very to be appreciated [illegible] Carl and Anna Glocker [illegible] to have seen all kinds of juggling [illegible] different and must be well be much enjoyed.

Never Before A Sale Like This!

We believe we are safe in estimating that no less than 500 entered our doors yesterday. It was a veritable stampede from the time the store opened until the closing hour. It was a good natured crowd, were happily disposed and seemed willing to endure the inconveniences that were impossible to obviate. We had all the extra salesmen we could get. We should like more.
